

Pope Elevates Two Americans

23 Prelates Given Rank Of Cardinal

Philadelphia, Boston Men Named To High Posts At Consistory

By FRANK BRUTTO
VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today formally elevated the archbishops of Philadelphia and Boston and 21 other Roman Catholic prelates to the rank of cardinal.

Twenty-three of the 51 other princes of the church, meeting in secret consistory at the Vatican, gave their silent assent to the Pope's action, confirming the choices he had announced Nov. 17.

The pontiff, himself crowned supreme ruler of the church only last month, increased the membership of the Sacred College to 74 and gave the world's half-billion members of the church their broadest representation ever in the high senate body.

Breaks Old Limit

Elevation of the new cardinals broke the limit of 70 set for the college by Pope Sixtus V in 1586.

In his address to the Sacred College telling of his choices, the pontiff called particular attention to the persecution of Catholics by the Communist regime in China. Missionaries have been expelled and many archbishops and bishops, "full of zeal and courage, are in prison, or restricted or impeded in the free exercise of their pastoral ministry," he said.

"The clergy and faithful have become the target of blandishments, menaces, physical and moral tortures," the Pope continued, in order to "break the bond of obedience and love which links them with the See of Peter."

"Unfortunately," he went on, "we have to declare with sorrow that there are not wanting some who, fearing the orders of men more than the sacred judgment of God, have so far yielded to the commands of persecutors as to accept sacrilegious episcopal consecration from which no power of jurisdiction can be derived since it was conferred without the mandate of the Holy See."

Pope John asked the Catholic bishops of the world to arrange for "public occasions of prayer and penance" to beseech God to "enlighten the minds of those who are going astray" and to "give strength or will" to all the Catholics of China.

After the consistory, papal messengers went out from the Vatican to notify the new cardinals officially of their elevation.

Detegate Elevated

The two Americans, Richard James Cushing, 63, of Boston, and John F. O'Hara, 70, Philadelphia, received the word at the North American Pontifical College, high on Rome's Janiculum Hill. Also notified with them was Amleto Cicognani, whose elevation ended his 28-year tenure as apostolic delegate to the United States.

The new cardinals will receive their red birettas—square-shaped, office-fitting hats and a symbol of office—at a semipublic consistory in the Vatican Wednesday.

On Thursday will come the climactic public ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica, when the Pope will present the broad-brimmed galeros, the special red hat of the

Veteran Jeweler Loses His Life, Gunman Escapes

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Holdup men finally got a veteran jeweler, who once declared "if anyone wants to rob me they'll have to kill me."

The body of Ira C. Faircloth, 71, was found sprawled in his store Sunday. He had been shot twice.

The store had been looted of an undetermined amount of jewelry and cash.

Faircloth had been a frequent target of holdup men. One tried to rob him at knife point but the jeweler shot and captured him.

Diplomats Doubt Red China Will Oust Mao As President

HONG KONG (UPI)—Diplomats here doubted today that Mao Tse-tung would be ousted as president of Red China, but they conceded he may relinquish the government job to devote full time to running the all-powerful Communist Party.

The diplomats said there was no evidence to support reports from high Chinese Nationalist intelligence sources in Taipei that Red Chinese leaders had rebuffed Mao and named Marshal Chu Teh to replace him as government head.

Any move by Mao would be sources on the Red-held mainland.

West Allies Seek To Solve Disputes

Powers Stand Firm Against Russ Threats

Foreign Ministers Reject Reich Red Control Proposal

By ARTHUR GAYSHON
PARIS (AP)—Reassured that the Western Big Three will stand fast against Soviet pressure on West Berlin, the North Atlantic Allies turned today to critical disputes within the alliance.

The agreement Sunday on Berlin by the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States led off a week of formal conferences vital to Western Europe's future.

A communique said the Big Three foreign ministers "reaffirmed the determination of their governments to maintain their position and their rights with respect to Berlin, including the right of free access."

Reject Russ Proposal

The statement rejected the Soviet proposal to give the East German Communist regime control of Allied traffic with West Berlin. In effect, the ministers ruled out suggestions that the West deal with the East Germans as agents of the Russians.

The three ministers—U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd—gave no indication of what counterproposals they would make in reply to the Soviet note of Nov. 27.

But they said they were agreed on the basic issues to be covered in their replies. They said they would consult with the other NATO allies in the NATO Council, meeting beginning Tuesday and then would formulate their notes to the Soviets.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in the Soviet note said the Soviets were withdrawing from the four-power occupation of Berlin. He proposed that West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, be made a demilitarized free city. The Russians said regardless of what was worked out for West Berlin, they were giving the East German control of all communications within the city in six months.

The Western refusal to deal with the East Germans apparently left no alternative but force to insure access to the city if the Russians go ahead with the transfer of communication controls. The Russians have said they would constitute aggression against East Germany and that Soviet troops would go to the satellite regime's aid in accordance with the Warsaw Pact.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano joined in the later half of the three-hour conference at the Foreign Office. West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt also spent half an hour in the meeting, giving his views to the foreign ministers. Dulles told him after the meeting, "You don't need to be worried."

Today the Allies turned to trade and economic policy with a meeting of the 17-nation Organization for European Economic Cooperation. The OEEC includes all European members of the Atlantic Pact plus such neutral countries as Switzerland and Sweden.

Reich Red Boss Reports Pledge

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht returned from Warsaw today with Poland's pledge that it fully supports the Soviet drive to get Western troops out of Berlin.

Ulbricht told several thousand workers who had been marched to the East Berlin railroad station to greet him: "We reached complete agreement on the Soviet suggestions on Berlin."

Pravda's direct reference to East Germany's aerial frontiers could be taken as a warning against any attempt to airlift supplies to West Berlin if it is again cut off from the West.

Western and neutral diplomats in Moscow voiced belief that the sharp tone of new statements from Premier Nikita Khrushchev indicated a possibility of jutting short the six-month period he originally set for negotiations with the West on Berlin.

Major Break Not Sighted In Cold Snap

United Press International
Fresh snows swept out of the Southland and the Northeast today. Weathermen foresaw no major break in the bitter weather cloaking much of the nation.

The brunt of the Eastern storm moved out into the Atlantic Ocean Sunday night, but deposited moderate snowfall amounts along its flanks from northern New Jersey to southern New England.

Earlier, the storm slammed into Dixie, dumping six inches of snow at Richmond, Va. It left one to four inches from northern South Carolina to southeastern New England.

As the cold snap stretched well into its second week, readings plunged to zero or below as far south as Fayetteville, Ark. During the night and sub-freezing temperatures ranged through Georgia and northern Florida.

However, a warming trend in the northern plains created a reversal of the usual weather pattern. Great Falls and Cuthbert, Mont., each recorded 35-degree readings at midnight, while along the Gulf residents of Mobile, Ala., and New Orleans shivered in 29 and 33-degree temperatures, respectively.

The Southland's cold wave was felt during the night from Texas to northern Florida, where at least five deaths have been attributed to the icy temperatures.

Federal spending during this fiscal year is estimated at about $79,200,000,000, with about 41 billion of that going for defense.

Iraqi Revolt Report Aired

CAIRO (AP)—U.S. Undersecretary of State William M. Rountree left by plane today for Baghdad as all Cairo papers predicted another upheaval in Iraq.

Rountree himself faced the threat of hostile demonstrations from the powerful Iraqi Communist party.

Rountree has been touring the Middle East. He conferred at length Sunday with President Nasser.

In recent weeks tension has arisen between Arab nationalists and Communists in Iraq.

A violent campaign against the United States has been under way in Baghdad for weeks.

Brush Blaze Menaces Old Mission Area

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—An estimated 1,000 men, hampered by turbulent winds, struggled today to check a fast-moving brush fire raging in mountain country eight miles northeast of this historic mission town.

The blaze broke out Sunday and quickly consumed 10,000 acres of tall brush—some of it as high as 15 feet.

Hopes of early control of the fire were dashed when it jumped the Ortega highway, a scenic route linking San Juan Capistrano and Lake Elsinore. Firemen had sought vainly to make a stand at the highway.

The area, dotted with resort cabins and a few ranches, is part of the Cleveland National Forest. Cabins in the community of San Juan Hot Springs were endangered but firefighters were optimistic that most of them would be saved. Inhabitants were evacuated.

The Russian Airman Seeks Explorers

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet flier searched across frozen antarctic wastes today for four Belgian explorers who abandoned their crashed plane and set out on foot.

The flier reported by radio early today that he had not found the men, who had set out Thursday for a supply depot 80 miles from the crash site.

Soviet pilot Viktor Perov found the wreckage of the Belgians' plane Sunday and landed his ski-equipped Li2, Soviet version of the DC3, to look for survivors.

Juvenile Gang Reforms After Grocery Holdup

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The King Cobras, who reformed publicly 10 months ago, have made it stick.

They're the juvenile gang members who gave a "restitution dinner" last February after some of them took part in a grocery burglary.

The dinner netted $133.08 to more than repay the grocer. A judge gave them another chance. "They're making good," said James L. White, executive director of Neighborhood House, Inc., the social service agency that helped them with the public repayment dinner.

"Not one boy has been in trouble with the law since."

Red Radio Blasts West Powers

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio charged the foreign ministers of the Western Big Three with ignoring the Soviet proposal to make Berlin a demilitarized free city.

The broadcast was the first brief Soviet comment on the foreign ministers' statement in Paris Sunday that their governments would not be forced out of West Berlin and would not do business with the East German regime.

Talks Resume In New York's Paper Famine

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's top mediator formally joins negotiations today in an effort to end the six-day-old newspaper deliverymen's strike that has cut off publication of the city's nine major dailies.

Joseph R. Finnegan, national director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, meets with representatives of the striking Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union and the Publishers Association of New York City when contract talks resume.

A publishers' spokesman said the papers would not resume publication until the deliverymen returned to work. The announcement followed an offer from more than 2,000 printers, members of the New York Typographical Union Local 6, to return to work.

Printers at the Daily News plant refused to cross a deliverymen's picket line and the paper was unable to run its Thursday morning editions.

All the papers suspended publication after Thursday editions of the three other morning papers, the Herald Tribune, the Mirror and the Times, were printed.

The afternoon papers are the Journal-American, Post, World Telegram and Sun, Long Island Daily Press and Long Island Star-Journal.

The union originally asked for a $10 wage-increase package, plus various holiday, sickness and vacation benefits and a 35-hour work week.

The broadcast was the first brief Soviet comment on the foreign ministers' statement in Paris Sunday that their governments would not be forced out of West Berlin and would not do business with the East German regime.

The Soviet radio said the Western communique "bears witness to their unwillingness to allow any change in the abnormal situation in Berlin.

"In essence, it gives no reply to the Soviet proposals."

This was followed by a fresh promise in Pravda to defend Communist East Germany from aggression.

"The Soviet Union will not be hampered by irresponsible threats made by certain Western windbags who declare they will hold a clear road to Berlin with troops and tanks," the party organ said.

"If aggression against the (East) German Democratic Republic were nevertheless carried out, the Soviet Union, as the German Democratic Republic's loyal ally in the Warsaw Treaty, will fulfill its obligations and together with the German Democratic Republic will defend the integrity of her land, water and aerial frontiers."

Battle Over Pigeons May Go Long Way

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh pigeon fanciers charged Sunday that the city can't tell its racing pigeons to "shoo" because the pigeons are members of the Army reserve and essential to the community.

Some residents of the city's Mount Washington section disagree. They contend that C. M. Purpora's pigeons are pests. The City Board of Adjustment agreed with them so did the City Board of Appeals. Saturday, Judge Benjamin Lench- er of Allegheny County Court up- held the previous decisions and ordered Purpora to empty his pigeon loft by Dec. 31.

A. L. Poeschl, president of the Pittsburgh Center, American Racing Union, says the group will ap- peal to State Superior Court.

Peter P. Barry, former pres- ident of the union, said more than 1,500 pigeons from this area served in Army communications during World War II and are even more essential now because the Army no longer has a pigeon corps. He said the pigeons are in the Army reserve and "subject to immediate recall."

French Rebuff British
The French recently rejected a British proposal to associate all 17 OEEC members in a free trade area. The British still are bitter over the French action, and their officials say that reprisals may have to be taken to defend the British economy. The Scandinavians and some other nations are saying the same.

Other items to be taken up dur- ing the meetings this week include:
1. France's determination for a bigger voice in the Atlantic Al- liance.
2. Continental hesitation to ac- cept American nuclear rocket bases.
3. The dangerous situation in Cyprus.
4. The fishing war in the North Atlantic, involving Icelandic and British ships.

Eisenhower

Eisenhower has made the bud- get one of the top issues of the approaching Congress, with in- creased Democratic majorities. He did so with his postelection criticism of Democratic "spen- ders" he said were elected because the voters were apathetic on this issue.

GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn sharpened the issue with a weekend statement listing prop- osals made by the Democratic Advisory Council, Senate Demo- cratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the AFL-CIO and Ameri- cans for Democratic Action. Al- corn said these would boost the budget to more than 100 billion dollars if enacted.

"The Democrats have wasted no time in confirming the Republican campaign statement that an 'aval- anche of spending proposals would follow if the radical wing of the party succeeded in electing its many candidates," Alcorn said.

On the other hand, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said his party had received in the election "a clear and unmistak- able mandate for positive and progressive action to put America once again on the road to progress and expansion."

Hitting the same theme today, he told the Women's National Democratic Club in a prepared speech: "... I would rather be a 'spender' for vital economic ex- pansion than a 'shrinker' or a 'strangler' of a virile nation's productive power, as the Eisen- hower-Nixon administration has been."

Manhunt For California Slayer Of Five Spreads

EL CAJON, Calif. (UPI)—A manhunt for a 16-year-old boy, be- lieved to have murdered a mother and her four children, spread today throughout the Southwest.

Carl Eder, of Irondequoit, N.Y., who was befriended by the fam- ily, fled Friday shortly before Mrs. Lois Pendergast, 37, was found by her husband fatally shot in the hallway of their home.

The couple's four children, three boys and a girl aged 2 to 9, were found in other parts of the house and an adjoining garage with their throats cut. Two of the chil- dren had been disemboweled.

Thomas Pendergast, 39, the hus- band and father, said Sunday af- ter undergoing a seven and a half hour lie detector test that he planned to devote his life to "church and youth welfare work."

The aircraft plant worker's lie detector test results were being evaluated. Findings will be known sometime late today or Tuesday, Police Chief Joseph O'Connors said.

"It is only fair to clear this man to strengthen our case against the other (Eder)," O'Con- nors said.

The police chief said Pender- gast's statements while being questioned with the polygraph "were consistent with what he told us before."

"I wanted the lie detector test," Pendergast said after the ordeal. "I believe in lie detectors. It is my witness next to the Lord."

Cars were checked at the near- by Mexican border for Eder. Roadblocks were manned at points along highways.

office, to the new princes of the church.

Two of the new cardinals were in Rome and will not partici- pate in the ceremonies this week. Joseph Bueno y Monreal, arch- bishop of Seville, will receive his notification and red hat from Gen- eralissimo Francisco Franco, Spanish chief of state. Fernando Cento, papal nuncio to Portugal, will get his from President Ameri- co Tomas in Lisbon. This is by ancient accord between the Vati- can and such Catholic states.

In an address in Latin, Pope John said that in increasing the membership of the Sacred Col- lege, he had in mind the great and expanding duties of its mem- bers. He said he had in mind par- ticularly lightening the burdens of the present cardinal members of the Vatican Curia, the central ad- ministration of the church.

The Pope did not say directly whether he intends to increase the size of the college still more in the future, as has been speculat- ed. But he did say that he had in mind many other prelates of the church who had "proved themselves very worth of this high honor."

The new cardinals are from nine nations, including the 13 from Italy. They bring the number of nations represented in the col- lege to 27. Mexico and Uruguay obtained their first princes of the church.

The consistory was the first since Jan. 12, 1853, when the late Pius XII created 24 cardinals.

Monkey Ride Gave Data On Space Travel

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—An Army spokesman has said that the first primate shot into space, a squirrel mon- key, rode to his death to provide man with valuable information about the effects of space travel on living organisms.

"Little Old Reliable," a vigor- ous specimen of his breed, rode 1,700 miles in the nose cone of a Jupiter missile and apparently died after the cone plunged into the south Atlantic Saturday.

Ships and planes searched the target area for hours but could find no trace of the cone.

But the Army said the experi- ment was successful because in- struments fastened to the mon- key's body sent back proof that long periods of weightlessness are only a little harmful to living creatures.

Despite the scientific impor- tance of the monkey test, militant animal lover groups lodged stern protests. The reaction was not as

Big Boom Predicted For Nation's Coal Industry

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States, which started as a wood burning nation, went to coal for its giant industrial revolution, and started switching to oil and gas a few years ago, may go back to coal.

Joseph R. Forsythe, general manager of Keystone Coal Buyers Manual and other coal publications, thinks it will, with a big production efficiency (11 tons to 18.5 tons per man day).

"A healthy increase in average realization, and a rapidly improving situation in generation of capital and in net profits."

Writing in the current issue of "The Analysts Journal", Forsythe carries his projections beyond the seven-year period.

By 1957, he says, coal's horizon could expand to one billion tons a year.

And by the year 2000, it is possible to achieve an annual level of some two billions tons, he says.

Reconvert in '60s

He sees a decline ahead in expansion of hydro power, a reconversion from gas and oil to coal, developing in the early 1960s.

He believes the free countries of Europe, Asia, South America as well as Canada will look to the United States for coal, particularly metallurgical coal.

He doesn't think nuclear power will have much more than a five per cent impact by 1975 on the fuel markets of coal, oil, and gas.

Forsythe envisions petrochemicals turning to coal for raw feed stock, and holds that hydrogenation of oil will become a necessity with oil shale, lignite, and bituminous coal required in tremendous tonnages.

New Library Dedicated By DTD Chapter

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — The University of Maryland chapter of Delta Tau Delta fraternity dedicated a new library yesterday in honor of the deceased son of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark.

The Thomas C. Clark Jr. Library replaces a room which Justice Clark furnished in memory of his son, who died when seven years old, in the fraternity's first chapter house 10 years ago. The fraternity moved to its present building in 1953.

Justice Clark, who joined the same fraternity at the University of Texas in 1920, said he and his wife felt "highly flattered and honored" by the dedication. He said the fraternity had "given us more than we have given it."

The new library was built last summer at a cost of about $800. It contains text and reference books, including an encyclopedia set donated by Justice Clark, and some fictional works.

Dr. Wilson L. Elkins, president of the university, and Deans Gary F. Eppey, Robert James and Adele H. Stamp attended the dedication ceremonies.

Wall Street Eyes Business Profit

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There are some anxious eyes on business profits today in Wall Street.

The stock market, always sensitive to corporate earnings, is more so just now because the bulls have bid up prices to a point that will call for a steep climb in net income after taxes by many firms before their profits are in line with the optimism the bulls have underwritten.

The profit trend is on the upgrade at year end after a sharp drop in the first months of 1958.

What Wall Street is scanning, the reports to and is the strength of the trend and the chances of its continuing.

First of the annual profit and loss reports are coming in now from those companies whose fiscal year ends before the calendar year. Added to these are a flock of estimates by corporate executives of what 1958 earnings should be when the books are finally closed in coming weeks. And there are the many hopeful ones who are saying: just wait until next year.

From the early reports Wall Street is getting a hint at least as how 1958 profits will stack up with 1957's after all the annual reports are in a couple of months from now.

Some 56 corporations already have reported for their fiscal years. Of these 25 show gains in net income, over the figures for the previous year, while 31 show declines. There are three reporting no losses this year, while the year before there were two.

Combined the 56 made $182,686,639, compared with $171,320,234 in the previous year, for an increase of 6.6 per cent.

But the results are weighted heavily by striking gains this year by two of the 56 companies.

American Motors reports profits of 26 million dollars this year, against a loss the year before of 11 1/4 million dollars.

And Minute Maid Corp. puts profits this year 4 1/2 million dollars.

English Town Citizens Watching For Blossoms

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UPI) — Citizens of ancient Glastonbury in the west country are anxiously watching the sturdy little Hawthorn tree which grows near the high altar in ruined Glastonbury Abbey on Wearyall Hill.

For this is the famous holy thorn of legend and if it duly blooms on Christmas Day, the first spray of blossom must be ceremoniously cut by the vicar of Glastonbury and dispatched at once to the queen.

If it fails to bloom, it is believed that a year of grief and tribulation for the royal family and for England generally lies ahead.

Staff Takes Root

Legend says that this tree dates back to Saint Joseph of Arimathea who came to the vale of Avalon to preach Christianity carrying a staff cut from the tree which provided Christ's crown thorns. Exhausted from climbing the steep hill, he stopped to rest, remarking, "We are weary all," and plunged his staff into the ground.

It immediately took root and became a tree which always blooms at Christmas, unlike normal thorn trees which bloom in the spring. It also blooms whenever royalty visits the abbey.

The tree has bloomed at Christmas for centuries past. There are historical records of its flowers being ceremonially presented to King James I and Queen Anne.

The late Queen Mary always looked forward to receiving the flower at Sandringham House and the sprays were placed by her in the local church.

Continues In Perpetuity

As one tree has reached its normal span and died, cuttings from it have been planted so that the holy thorn can continue in perpetuity. The present tree has matured from the cutting officially taken and planted with considerable pomp during the festival of Britain celebrations in 1951.

Seeds from the tree have often been cultivated but the result has always been an ordinary spring-blooming thorn.

But cuttings sent to many parts of the world have occasionally rooted successfully and matured into Christmas-blooming trees. They are always required to be planted in holy ground.

One is at St. Alban's Cathedral in Washington. In 1951 when Princess Elizabeth visited Washington it suddenly bloomed and a spray of the blossom was presented to her in a special silver casket.

Just over two months later her father died and the princess became the queen.

DeMILLE AT WORK—Cecil B. DeMille, busy on the telephone in his Hollywood office, can still set a pace that makes younger men tire. DeMille currently is on the road to exploit "The Buccaneer", a movie he supervised but did not direct. And in the making is his number one project for 1960, a picture called "On My Honor", the story of Lord Baden-Powell and the Boy Scouts. (AP Photos)

DeMille Pace Setter Despite His 77 Years

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A living legend at 77, Cecil B. DeMille can still set a pace that makes younger men tire.

I watched him at close range in New Orleans, where he is helping to exploit "The Buccaneer," a movie he supervised but did not direct. His day included radio interviews before breakfast, a luncheon speech, a parade, premiere and reception afterward. He goes on to Atlanta for more of the same, then a strenuous week in New York.

With it all, his mind remained razor-sharp, as I found out while riding with him through crowds to the theater. "Keep those wonderful pictures coming," shouted an admirer, and DeMille beamed. Between these exchanges, he talked of his plans for the future.

No. 1 project is "On My Honor," the story of Lord Baden-Powell and the Boy Scouts. This seemed to some an unlikely subject for DeMille, whose name connotes the spectacular epic.

"But it isn't just a story of 50,000 boys tying knots or rubbing sticks together to create fire," the film pioneer said. "This is a story of tremendous scope. I will film it all over the world."

He expects to film the picture in 1960. Then he plans to spend four years in preparing what he calls "Project X." He resisted any hints that it would be another biblical epic—"You can hint all you want but nobody will ever guess; it's that much different from anything I've done."

These plans could take him to the age of 85, "and then they'll have to come and wheel me away." He shows no signs of flagging yet. He still approaches film making—and film selling—with burning enthusiasm. Therein lies a good chunk of his success.

DeMille films seldom draw the plaudits of the highbrow critics, but they are researched and filmed with tender care.

BALTIMORE (AP)—A tanker to be launched here Thursday can take 12 million gallons of oil to the Far East in 30 days. Forty years ago, it would have taken 11 1/2 years.

The only other oil-carrying ship American-foreign ever had was a five-masted schooner, the Joseph S. Zeman, launched 40 years ago in Bath, Maine. It had a capacity of 500,000 gallons in five-gallon cans and would have had to sail continuously 11 1/2 years to deliver the American Eagle's capacity.

"Christmas Tree" Said To Be Too Sentimental

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC-TV officially opened the heart-warming season Sunday with "The Christmas Tree," a one hour in conventional holiday pieties.

The trappings of "The Christmas Tree," a "Hallmark Hall of Fame" variety entry, were admirable — stylish, uncluttered, glossy. Unfortunately, much of the content was glitzy — a fatty pudding of self-conscious sentiment.

One of the hour's skills — a piece that featured Tom Poston and Ellen McCrae — jumped off to a nice hard start, but quickly shriveled into the standard assembly line kind of gush that TV pours out in huge gobs at this time of year. Two other sketches on the show, were of the level of particularly mediocre ladies magazine type fiction.

There were a few fairly pleasant moments: A Cyril Ritchard caper with Carol Channing and a brace of skating routines. But these are hardly the stuff of which spectaculars are made.

"The Christmas Tree" was a little like a well-mounted Ed Sullivan show that had somehow become entangled with three "Schlitz Playhouses." The viewer has come to expect something a little bit better from "Hallmark Hall of Fame."

The Weekend: Jackie Gleason turned his Friday night CBS-TV half-hour into a chat session with Arthur Godfrey. It was moderately spellbinding. The team of Ford and Hines is not as funny as NBC-TV's Jack Paar seems to think they are — their material is pretty melancholy. The premiere of Leonard Bernstein's "Young People's Concerts" on CBS-TV Saturday afternoon was a delightful hour.

Arlene Francis, hostess on NBC-TV's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" Sunday, seemed to be fighting a case of sniffles. As for "Amahl," it amazes me that everyone continues to treat it so reverently when it is, in fact, periously close to being a bore. Jonathan Winters was wonderfully funny on the NBC-TV "Sieve of All Show" Sunday night in a spoof of "Wagon Train." Ed Murrow took CBS-TV and the other networks to task Sunday on his CBS-TV "Small World" for their failure to maintain regular correspondence in Latin America. Said Murrow: "I think it's disgraceful."

The Channel Swim: NBC-TV has a "Project 20" special planned for Feb. 11 called "Mr. Lincoln." ABC-TV will carry 90 minutes of the "Bing Crosby Golf Tournament" on Jan. 18 from Pebble Beach, Calif.

Dick Button has been added to the cast of "Dancing — A Man's Game" which Gene Kelly will turn out for NBC-TV's "Omnibus" on Dec. 21. Other sports figures who'll probably join the show in order to demonstrate their grace include Bob Cousy, Vic Seixas, Doug Ford and a clump of fencers.

Mickey Shaughnessy will star in a TV comedy series about the Navy, "Mickey McGonigle," which MGM soon will start shooting. CBS-TV's "Top Dollar" has decided to limit the appearances of its contestants to five shows. NBC-TV's "Continental Classroom" will recess from Dec. 24 to Jan. 4.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union for ever.—Morris

For Extremists

TOSSING SEN. Hubert Humphrey's name into the Democratic presidential hopper was a pretty perfunctory gesture until he returned from interviewing Soviet Boss Khrushchev. Now, evidently, some people are getting serious about him. Seldom has a politician gotten more mileage out of an interview than Humphrey is getting out of this one. He had a long chat with President Eisenhower about it, with appropriate fanfare. Magazines have been giving him a good spread. He's got both feet inside the chalked circle on center stage. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says she thinks he's closest of anyone to having the stuff the next president will need. There have been some other murmurings in the same key.

NO ONE IMAGINES that Mrs. Roosevelt packs any great political weight. But sometimes she reflects what others of her markedly liberal persuasion are thinking. This could be a sign that the militant liberals among the Democratic party see Humphrey as a man of rising stature. There was a time when no seasoned professional would have mentioned him as presidential timber. As the man who led the pro-civil rights fight in the 1948 convention at Philadelphia, he was considered totally unacceptable to the South, part of which revolted at that time. Then Humphrey made a rather poor beginning in the Senate. He was talky, and the phrase "boy scout" was sometimes heard in description.

OVER THE YEARS, however, he has acquired substantial experience, and impresses many today as a man of responsibility. In 1956 it was evident he had even managed to make a good many friends among southern politicians. Just how fully the South would embrace him today has not been shown. All aside from civil rights, he's pretty liberal for many southerners. Perhaps the northern liberal interest in him suggests a conviction that this wing of the party—after the recent elections—is now strong enough to ride over the South's objections, if they exist. In any event, it certainly indicates that Humphrey is no longer just a stray name in the presidential hat.

All Into The Act

THIS IS THE AGE of participation. The old days when we just watched or listened to a few specialists perform in sports, music, etc., are fading rapidly. Even phonograph records are bending to this particular wind. It's not just "Music by Stash" any more. It's "Sing Along With Stash." Then there are those orchestral tidbits where they leave out one instrument, say the clarinet, so you can toodle along with the ensemble. "Music Minus One." The record provides the crowd noises, the introductory speeches, the chairman banging his gavel. But you make the big campaign talk. Or it might be "Congress Minus One." The record could offer a lively Senate debate on some burning topic. Accompanying charts would list 97 senators but leave one big gap. You would fill this by rising to your feet at an appropriate point in the debate to sound off. You could also record your vote. Some of the boys who are already listed as professionals in these categories could use this kind of practice.

Storm Of Arguments

SCIENTISTS are beginning to bint right out loud that man is close to doing something about the weather. Choking off tornadoes, for instance, bringing rain clouds to drought areas, putting out forest fires with man-directed rain, replenishing water supplies, regulating climate over broad regions. This all sounds very well, until one begins to think about some of the problems that might arise. It would work fine if everyone in a given area wanted the same type of weather at the same time. But when Farmer Brown wanted rain for his corn Banker Jones might hanker for golf, or Mrs. Smith might want to hang out clothes. Also, the experts admit, changes in one part of the world might affect the weather in another. There are enough international points of dispute now, without putting weather on the agenda. Save for dire emergency, we're willing to let nature call the signals while we continue to complain about the weather as it comes.

Defense Risks Great; Price Of Error, High

WASHINGTON—Defense Secretary Neil McElroy has flown to Europe for various defense meetings and will return only in time to go to Cincinnati for the Christmas holidays. He has left his initials, somewhat against his better judgment, on a defense budget of about $41.5 billion, a cut of $500 million in the total first produced by defense experts.

The cut represents President Eisenhower's determination to appear as a champion of economy. It will run into a Democratic Congress not at all happy about having been cast in the role of the spending villain of the piece.

MEMBERS arguing for the oath-taking procedure say that it offers the only real protection possible for career men who dissent from the wishes of the Commander-in-Chief. It may also offer some insurance for Congress, which cannot be blamed for not doing—or doing—what experts under oath defend.

Both politics and past history complicate the situation. The campaign attack on Democrats as spenders was not taken too seriously by that party, especially since it won. But there has been every indication that Republicans have adopted it as their battle cry for 1960, with the President in the van. The Congressional majorities feel they must protect themselves from it in every way possible.

George Allen's Program Strikes Pay Dirt

WASHINGTON (NEA)—George V. Allen, head of the U.S. Information Agency, is a lean fellow of 55 who lives his life under siege. The barrage of demands on his time doesn't end with his running the government's overseas information programs, including the Voice of America and 200 U.S.I.A. posts in 80 lands.

About twice a week he makes a public speech somewhere, and he's constantly busy giving briefings and unpublished talks to many federal agencies, the military included. Schools and colleges around the country seem to think he's a faculty member.

There aren't many corners of his time that are safe. He likes to read, but his current pace is a book or so a month. He's a bridge fan who has a little family and a friends group going. But the Allen Bridge Society can barely hang onto its charter.

HE'S A HIT-and-run gardener. On one of his "hits" he gave the arborvitae at home a crew cut that left nothing but stumps. Family and friends were outraged at the eyesore, and Mrs. Allen finally stuck in some azaleas to ease the neighborhood pain.

Allen has a stamp collection, but he's lucky if he gets to it two or three times a year. Lately he's been collecting stamped envelopes from only those countries where people write him. He's up to 70 or 80 out of the 300 issuing sources in the world.

His sports picture is pretty intermittent, too. It's sprinkled with upper-90 golf games, occasional tennis, and winter badminton. But he seems to stay fit for his long hours and heavy schedule of desk work and travel (four times around this year).

A soft-spoken North Carolinian whose father ran a feed store, Allen doesn't fuss over his burdens. He knew what he was getting into when he turned from stints at schoolteaching and reporting to embrace a diplomatic career.

SINCE HE first rocked State Department examiners on their heels with his top test performance, Allen has had a 28-year diplomatic tour of duty that has included Greece, India, and such key trouble spots as Iran and Yugoslavia.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—For a long time he has been what is commonly called a movie star. He is gray now, pushing well into his 50's, and he is still a movie star. In years past, he had his share of wild escapades, transatlantic ditches and even a few not too awful miscreances.

Once, he was probably the top of the heap, depending on what you consider the top of the heap. He set hearts pumping, dominated men's fashions, married a raging beauty, passed through the customary gamuts of being a male movie star.

He could not have been less personally touched by the nonsense of Indians had shot arrows at him from a mile away. At all times and at all levels, he remained an Indiana boy, mud-todded from the farm.

WE SAT IN HIS small house in East Side Manhattan the other night, two graying fellows with a small, cheerful fire at our feet and an unexplosive glass in our hands. It was an innocuous aperitif wine, and we sipped it like two codgers who didn't know any better than to take an afternoon wine in the late evening.

Once, and only once, since the telephone number of this prime, three-story private house is known to about six persons outside the telephone company, the sleek, black talking instrument rang. I turned, involuntarily.

"Let it ring," he said. "My claws have been blunted. I feel like an old lion in the African sun, watching the cubs tumble about. It's probably Lady Emerald Clutter, suggesting tea. Delightful woman. I mean it. But tonight I'm in a Josie Smith mood."

"WHO IS LADY Emerald Clutter?"

"Any New York or London or San Francisco woman with too many fur coats, and too many friends, and too many restless nerves shrieking for excitement. I liked her. I still do. In minutes doses of about 13 flat seconds each. But Josie Smith. That was the one."

"Who was Josie Smith?"

"She was from Canton, Ohio, and the first girl I ever bobbed for apples with. She moved to our town when her father bought the local hay, grain and feed store. She was 11 years old and every buck of that age with caluses on his heels and freckles on his face fell in love with her. Me, too."

Josie was the warm afternoon sun on a millpond; warm and unforgettable scent of fresh hay cut for a hayride, with the kids singing songs under the moon and getting themselves spiritually drunk as skunks on something we now know was beauty

How To Scare The Poor Fish

WASHINGTON—Albert H. Kersey and Frederick D. Cooper of Coventry, England, have an idea for a new kind of automobile, which does away with such old-fashioned ironmongery as gear boxes, drive shafts, differentials and rear axles.

The Kersey-Cooper Special still has an engine, but this is hitched to a pump. The latter sends fluid through tubes under high pressure to turbines on the wheels and that's all there is to it.

This car they have patented here (Number 2,863,037), but more important, probably, from the viewpoint of motorists, is the fact that the Ford Motor Co., Ltd. of London, has bought the rights to manufacture it.

WHETHER THIS ever will come to pass I don't know, but I do remember back before World War II while rummaging through the Patent Office that I came across a series of patents bought by the Ford Co. of Detroit, calling for a rear-engine V-8 automobile. This stirred up some excitement in a small way, except at Ford headquarters, where the management said it was just thinking about engines in the back. It wasn't doing anything about them; it still hasn't.

We've also got some other patents, however, that already are in the works and the most interesting would seem to be the bubble-making machine of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of San Francisco, to scare the fish away from its water intakes.

IT USED TO be that the poor fish swam too close to the big pipes, got sucked in, and played hob with the turbines. They did

Hal Boyle
Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

Total honesty is rare in humankind. Philosophers may argue at what age or time the average man is most honest.

I have thought this problem through, and I think a man is most honest when he fights against the idea of getting out of bed in the morning to face the problems of the day.

I have read often in my lifetime of people who loved what they were doing so much that they could hardly bear to put their cheek against the pillow because tomorrow would be so exciting.

There must be people like this. But in a crowded life I have never met them. The lovers of life that I have met loved today and worried it to death—they took life as it was at the moment in their teeth.

Tomorrow was a century for others.

CERTAINLY I admire the heroes of this world who hate the waste of sleeping and fret against the darkness that denies them the bright opportunity of tomorrow. But I am not one of them.

In living you have a change of mornings. Getting up in the morning has always seemed to me the biggest possible mistake a man can make in his lifetime. And he does it day after day, year after year.

So many mornings in a lifetime.

Can you remember sleeping on an upper floor and, leaving the heavy quilted warmth of bed to run downstairs in your long-handled underwear and spread your bottom to the red comfort of a stove in the living room?

Or to creep shivering down alone at a cold and lonely hour to light the fire in the stove? Or go into the basement and throw coal into a reluctant furnace and coax its grudging, overnight-dampened loyalty to bright, silent flame again? Remember how strange the house looked, so silent and waiting for the family noise?

THESE PROBLEMS of arising in the morning are still only too familiar across the land.

But in the city where the same sun wonders the morning window, and a fellow has the climate of his choice by turning a knob, it seems to me his problem of getting up is no easier.

The today he loved has become yesterday, and the tomorrow he didn't know is now his today, and he has to get up and do something about it. All, as the poet says, is to do again.

It is human to hate to let go what you have known, and it is human not to face up to what you have to do.

Good night, day that I have loved. Hello, ugh, morning. Welcome, stranger, and make yourself at home.

Much as I doubt you now, you'll be a friend by nightfall. And then you will go away.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter is being given laugh therapy to help him over the heart disturbance which is keeping him confined to George Washington Hospital. The laughs are being administered twice daily by the invalid's walking mate, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Rib-ticking is not generally prescribed for heart sufferers, but in this case the patient has been responding favorably. Justice Frankfurter shakes with mirth at each dosage and informs his medical attendants that the treatments of old Doc Acheson are doing him more good than all their nostrums. The laughter seems to be acting as a heart stimulant.

ACHESON NOW culls all the political ponderosities, absurdities, and metaphorical mixups he can garner in Washington and carries the best of them to Justice Frankfurter on his walk to and from his law office. The ex-Cabinet officer has collected some honeys, especially during the meetings here of the Democratic Advisory Council, of which he is foreign policy chairman.

Acheson hurried from one session to his friend's sick bed and said:

"One of our great international minds has just finished telling us what we must do. Do you know what we must do?"

"Let me have it," urged Justice Frankfurter.

"I took it down verbatim as the great man uttered it," said the ex-Secretary of State. "This is what he says we must do: 'We must strengthen the image of the Democratic Party as the best vehicle for dynamic leadership.'"

"That'd be quite a vehicle," concurred the Jurist, after his guffaws subsided. "I've never ridden around in an image."

"That isn't all," said Mr. Acheson. "We were told we must do something else. We must ring."

"I beg your pardon?" said Justice Frankfurter.

"We must ring. We were told we must produce a ringing statement of high ideals, a call for great decisions in the leadership of mankind."

Mr. Acheson reported on a breakfast he had had with former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson. He said he had noted down some of the more lively dialogue. He read pithy passages to the Justice, who went into spasms. I'd like to pass them onto you, but they'd have to lose too much to be suitable for print.

THE BREAKFAST of the three Democratic hiearchists could have been more productive if they had sharper ears. They ate in a small private room in the basement of the Mayflower. In a larger room, opening from it, the John Carroll Society was having a breakfast.

The principal speaker was the extremist author-lecturer, William F. Buckley. Intemperate as usual, Buckley devoted most of his talk to unkind remarks about Harry Truman, Adlai Stevenson and Dean Acheson.

He was denouncing them roundly and soundly when a man tiptoed in an whispered to the toastmaster, William B. Jones. Jones tugged at Buckley's sleeve. The agitator bent over, and listened in obviously mounting perturbation as Jones whispered at him.

Just what message was imparted in the whispers remains a secret between the toastmaster and the speaker, but when Buckley resumed his diatribe, it was noted that he pitched his criticism of the Messrs. Truman, Stevenson and Acheson a full octave lower.

Actor Russ Tamblyn Tells Of GI Life

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Private Russ Tamblyn stopped by Movie Town for the first time since beginning of a two-year hitch in the Army, and said, "the country must feel mighty safe with Elvis, me, and Lindsay Crosby in the service."

"We could sing the enemy to death."

The jaunty young star is on a 21-day furlough and dreads returning to Fort Sill, Okla., for the holidays.

"I guess I should be looking forward to it," he grinned. "The colonel promised to have breakfast with the troops in the mess hall Christmas morning. How're you gonna top that?"

Russ says the Army is working overtime to make a man of him, and at the same time convinced the 24-year-old actor that he's no different from other GIs.

Given Lecture
"When I took basic training an officer called me into his office and lectured me for 20 minutes on how I would be treated just like the other soldiers," Russ related. "He said I was no different from anyone else."

"But I made the mistake of asking him if he was going to call in the other 499 guys for the same lecture. I ended up scrubbing floors for a week."

Russ is paid $76 a month, compared to $1000 a week he earned at MGM while starring in "Tom Thumb." His furlough has been spent touring 11 cities plugging the picture—without pay.

"You wouldn't believe some of the things that have happened to me in the eight months I've been in the Army," Russ said. "I'm in the entertainment section of special services. But I don't do any entertaining except to hand out programs for a little theater group, and once I gave out certificates for children who had read 12 or more books during the summer."

Crowns A Queen
"Oh, yeah, I did go to Wichita Falls, Texas, to crown the fire prevention queen. And the Army gave me a dollar to cover gasoline expenses."

"During a training session we were forced to charge up a big hill firing empty rifles at a sign reading 'I am the enemy.' We were yelling 'bang-bang' instead of shooting bullets."

"It struck me so funny I sat down and laughed 'til I cried."

"Then a big red-faced sergeant rushed up to me bawling mad. He said, 'That's the trouble with you actors. You all live in a world of make-believe.' Then I really broke up."

Young Tamblyn says there is a possibility he will make PFC within the next month or two, but he isn't excited about the prospect.

"All it means is I'll have to sew the stripes on about 30 shirts and jackets."

Fire Damages House At Potomac Park
Fire damaged the residence of Francis Morris at Potomac Park yesterday shortly before noon, when an overheated flue ignited a partition.

Assistant Fire Chief Allen Deffenbaugh of the Bowling Green Fire Company said 16 volunteers responded to the call at 11:50 a.m. Damage was estimated to exceed $100.

Cold Spell To Continue In District

Snow, Near Zero Readings Reported; Highways Slick

No relief is in sight to the end of the cold spell that was accompanied yesterday by snow ranging from a half-inch to three inches in this section.

The Weather Bureau calls for Allegheny and Garrett Counties to be rather cloudy and cold with snow flurries or light snow tonight.

The low in Garrett County is to be near zero and from 5 to 15 degrees elsewhere.

Continued Cold

Tomorrow is to see variable cloudiness and continued cold with snow flurries west of Fredrick County.

The snow that fell in the area yesterday made driving conditions hazardous for a while, but today most main roads are passable without chains if caution is used.

Oakland had three inches more snow yesterday and during last night, according to the State Roads Commission's district office here.

Four Inches In Woods

Frostburg had two and one-half inches while there is four inches in the woods on Big Savage Mountain.

Cumberland and east received about a half-inch of snow.

Route 40 west of Frostburg was 50 per cent bare, but other side roads were partially or all covered. East of here the highways are from zero to 80 per cent bare. The temperature remained cold today. Morning lows reported were three degrees above zero at Big Savage, four, Accident, Frostburg, zero, Cumberland 14, and Town Hill 18.

R. R. Golden, local Weather Bureau observer, pointed out that at 6 a. m. today a low of 17 degrees was read, but two hours later the temperature had dropped to 14 degrees.

Winds Are Brisk

Brisk winds made the cold much more unbearable. N.E. drifting of any consequence was reported in the vicinity.

Route 50 in the Mt. Storm section was reported slick last night before State Roads Department crews could get into action.

Roads over much of Maryland were icy in spots today after a Sunday storm that raised the lower Eastern Shore's snow covering to 11 inches in some areas and closed some schools and plants.

The weather bureau said the State may get more snow about Wednesday or Thursday.

It's to continue quite cold through Th. today.

More Snow Falls

The lower Shore, which already had about 5 inches of snow got 4 to 6 inches more Sunday.

Schools were closed in Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset Counties and in some areas of lower Delaware and the Virginia Eastern Shore. Dorchester schools planned to close an hour early today.

In the Salisbury area some businesses and industries were closed today, particularly those with employees living in rural areas. Circuit Court sessions are cancelled. The snow fall Sunday in all but the lower Eastern Shore ranged between a quarter of an inch to an inch and a half.

Police recommended chains on secondary roads on the lower shore. They said roads were mostly dry in the Pikesville, Randallstown, Hagerstown and Conowingo areas. In places where there was trouble much of it was on secondary roads but some main roads were icy in spots.

Word To Wise Is Sufficient

Holiday revelers have this word from Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming today: "If you're going to drink and drive, you'll have police for chasers."

Meeting Slated Tomorrow On Child Guidance Plan

Educators from three Western Maryland counties will convene at Valley High School in Lonaconing tomorrow for a conference on the school guidance program. Principals, supervisors and guidance counselors from Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties will attend. The theme of the conference will be "The Specific Responsibility of Principals and Guidance Counselors in the School Guidance Program."

Miss Sarah L. Lefter, state supervisor of personnel services, will preside at the session. The speaker will be Dr. Frank L. Selvers, chief of the guidance and student personnel section of the U. S. Office of Education. He will discuss guidance with reference to the National Defense Education Act.

The planning committee has Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of Allegany County schools; Jack A. Petry, supervisor of county high schools; Dr. W. Argell Haines, Principal of Allegany High School and James D. Preaskorn, guidance counselor at Valley High as members.

Garrett County will be represented on the planning committee by Foster D. Bittle, supervisor of high schools; Paul Muha, principal of Northern High School; and Ernest Spoerlein, counselor at Southern High School.

NEW OFFICERS—New officers of the Cumberland Ministerial Association were installed this morning at Central YMCA. Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commanding officer of the Salvation Army Citadel, center, is the new president succeeding Rev. Jacob Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church who was named to the executive board. At left is Rev. Wayne Eberly, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren, secretary-treasurer, and at right is Rev. Randolph Kéke, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, executive board. Rev. E. E. Miller of the Church of the Brethren, not shown, is the new vice president.

Glass Worker Union, Firm Resume Talks

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Negotiations for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. and United Glass and Ceramics Workers Union, will meet here Tuesday in an effort to end a two-month strike.

The meeting will be held in the Masonic Temple because about 75 persons are expected to attend, according to Federal Conciliator Hayward J. Montonev.

It will be the first effort to resolve differences in the walkout since contract talks broke off at Louisville, Ky., Oct. 31.

The PPG bargaining team will be headed by Donald Sherbondy, Ralph J. Reiser, president of the International UGOW, will head the union bargaining team.

PPG workers left their jobs early in October when glassworkers at Libbey-Owens-Ford walked out in plants across the country. They had worked for 25 days without a contract in hope that a new agreement would be forthcoming without a strike.

An agreement was reached with Libbey-Owens-Ford after several weeks' but talks with PPG became deadlocked.

New Housing Project Due

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said today that construction of Cumberland's third low-rent housing project should be underway by next spring.

The Mayor, who visited the Federal Public Housing Authority of Washington Friday, said bid plans are being readied and might be advertised in the next 30 to 60 days. Cumberland's housing authority is anxious to have the project completed before work on the Industrial Boulevard reaches the project area in the vicinity of Oldtown Road and Lamont Street.

The Mayor had gone to Washington in an effort to seek speedy approval for the raising of old dwellings on the project site. As a result of his visit, the local authority received permission to advertise for bids for the destruction of the structures.

Meeting Cancelled

The December meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Ridgeley High School, scheduled Wednesday evening, has been cancelled, according to Mrs. Leon Hammond, president.

City Employees Get Long Yule Holiday

The Mayor and Council today granted city employees a long Christmas holiday weekend.

City offices and departments will close at 5 p. m. Wednesday, December 24 and not reopen until 9 a. m. Monday, December 29.

Postmasters Report Yule Mail Lagging

Delay Can Cause Late Deliveries, Cancellations Off

Area postmasters expressed concern today over the relatively small amount of early Christmas mailing which is being done, pointing out that the delay can create conditions that will result in late delivery of mail.

Cancellations through yesterday at the main Post Office here are running 95,000 less than was recorded during the first week of the Christmas mail period last year. Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon said, despite the fact that an extra day was available this year.

The 1957 mailing season started December 9 and cancellations for the first six days totaled 341,200, compared to 246,200 for the seven-day period ending yesterday.

Saturday Busiest Day—Yesterday was the first Sunday on which window service was available to patrons, the postmaster stated, and only 32,200 cancellations were recorded. The biggest day so far this year was Saturday, when 48,600 mail items were cancelled, Conlon said.

The Post Office was crowded this morning and the hope was expressed that Christmas mail would have a sharp rise. An extra window was opened for the convenience of parcel post patrons, and a clerk was stationed in the lobby to facilitate the separation of mail into local and out of town divisions.

Extra Clerks Hired—Conlon said incoming parcel post is running ahead of last year's volume, but outgoing parcels still have to match the amount handled last year. A number of extra clerks have been called to help handle the extra traffic.

An extra hour of window service will be available this week at the main Post Office, Station A in South Cumberland and at the LaVale Branch Office. Window hours for parcel post, stamps and general delivery will be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. through Friday, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. next Saturday, and from noon to 4 p. m. next Sunday. Postmaster Conlon said.

Local Schools Begin Holiday

Public and parochial school students in Allegany County will get an extra weekend off for the Christmas holiday.

Schools will begin the holiday at the close of sessions Friday, January 5.

Only Baltimore City, Dorchester, Harford and Prince Georges counties' schools will join Allegheny in the extra weekend holiday. Elsewhere in the state, schools will not close until Tuesday, December 23. But they will observe the same starting date next year.

Somerset County school officials had considered reopening Jan. 2, ahead of the remainder of the state. They changed plans yesterday, however, when the parent-teacher organization protested.

There is quite a variation in the dismissal time.

The last day before vacation will be a full school day in Baltimore City and 12 counties—Allegany, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Garrett, Harford, Montgomery, Prince Georges, Queen Annes, Talbot, Washington and Worcester.

School children in Frederick and Wicomico will get a head start with dismissal at noon. Charles County schools will close at 12:30 p. m.

It will be 1 p. m. in Calvert, Kent County, and 2 or 2:30 in Caroline, Cecil, St. Marys and Somerset.

Fort Hill And LaSalle In City Opener Tonight

Co-Champs Will Collide On Sentinel Home Court

By JIM DAY
Times-Sentinel Sports Editor

Last year's co-champions, Fort Hill and LaSalle, open the 1958-59 intra-city basketball series tonight on the Sentinels' court. Tipoff will be at 8 o'clock.

The clash, the 46th between the two schools, will launch the heaviest weekly card of the cage season and is one of a half-dozen tilts on tap tonight. Allegany will be idle until Friday night when the return contest with Frederick on the Campobello floor.

The Explorers and Sentinels will be gunning to snap "losing streaks" in their battle tonight. LaSalle, after whipping Fort Ashby, 71-68, in the lifeline, has been drubbed in its last two outings.

Valley's super-charged Black Knights dealt coach George Geatz's charges their first setback, 83-36, in Detroit and then South Hills of Pittsburgh whacked the North Centre Streeters, 83-55, in their last game a week ago yesterday on the SS. Peter and Paul boards.

Sentinels Now 1-1

Fort Hill started the season with a victory for new coach Wayne Boor but enters tonight's important, tilt with a 1-1 mark. The Red Raiders got by Frederick, 45-42, in the opener but ran afoul of North Hagerstown, 59-40, Saturday night in the Hub City.

In the two games to date, the Sentinels have been paced by their pair of holdovers from last season's championship quint, Charles Robinson and Donnie Lewis. Robinson, being used at the pivot post, leads the club in scoring with 40 points while Lewis is runnerup with 19 tallies.

The Explorers, who lost one of their veterans when forward Jack Bohn fractured his foot in the opener against Fort Ashby, haven't been able to pack a scoring punch. Mickey Scalletta, with 30 markers, and holdover regular Jim Torneil, with 28 tallies, are leading the scoring parade.

The Red Raiders hold a 25-20 edge over LaSalle in their rivalry with the quints splitting their last ten meetings. The Sentinels hold the longest winning streak, capturing 12 in a row from 1948 through 1953.

Split Last Season

Last season the Red Raiders were the only quint to top the powerful LaSalle cagers, during the regular season. After losing by a whopping 80-52 to their home boards, the South Enders nipped the Explorers, 55-54, on center Jerry Meeks' goal in the final seconds at LaSalle. The loss was the only one in 23 contests for the Green Wave.

Four other school clashes are billed tonight. In addition to a collegiate clash with Frostburg State Teachers going for their initial triumph by meeting Waynesburg (Pa.) College on the Bobcats' home boards.

Frostburg has made three three starts and lost them all with defeats by Potomac State, 77-67; Shippensburg, 64-54, and include Willie Clark, Stanley Small, Rocco Sisto, Donald Teague, Earl Phelps, Carl Gambardello, Fausto Rivera, Freddie Kratz, Tommy Lee, Jay Hausse and Ernest Seaman. For the sixth straight year, the Pacific Coast Conference is offering football fans across the country a chance to get a souvenir program of the Rose Bowl game.

These programs can be secured by sending a dollar (currency, check or money order) to "Official Rose Bowl Program, P.O. Box 909, Pasadena 3, Calif." When the nation's top race drivers test the "world's greatest racecar" next February 20, 21 and 22 at Daytona Beach, Fla., they'll be chasing the richest purse ever offered in stock-car racing. For winning the 500-mile International Sweepstakes, a NASCAR driver could bank more than $20,000 for an afternoon's work.

Total prize money for the three days of racing at the new $3,000,000 high-banked speedway will be more than $65,000. That 49-yard field goal kicked by Pat Sumner in the New York Giants' 13-10 victory over the Cleveland Browns in the snow yesterday at Yankee Stadium is the second longest in the club's history.

Ben Agajanian, Sumner's predecessor, once kicked one 50 yards. Frank McGuire, coach of North Carolina's Tar Heels, has turned author.

McGuire, whose team won the national championship two seasons ago with a record run of 32 games without a defeat, has come out with a widely heralded book, "Offensive Basketball." It has received fine reviews and is expected to be used widely as a textbook on basketball coaching and training.

Four Of Nation's Top College Teams Beaten

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Oh, what a head-splitting "Monday mourning" it turned out to be for some of the nation's best basketball teams who wallowed through a lost weekend.

Four of the country's finest Notre Dame, West Virginia, St. Louis and St. John's—wound, up flat on their reputations last Saturday night, while a fifth member of the top 10, Kansas State barely managed to squeeze by.

On the brighter side, top-ranked Cincinnati maintained its prestige by beating Marshall College, 106-86, as Oscar Robertson turned in one of his patented 42-point performances, and Wisconsin made life bearable again for Coach Bud Foster with an upset 56-54 victory over fifth-ranked Notre Dame.

Only the night before, Foster had been hanged in effigy because the Badgers lost their first three games. Moments after center Ray Gross' basket beat the Irish, jubilant Wisconsin players carried Foster off the court on their shoulders.

Virginia Beals Mountaineers, West Virginia's nation's defending champion, absorbed its first loss when beaten by Virginia, 73-72, despite a 31-point total by Jerry West. Paul Adkins paced the Cavaliers to their triumph over the Mountaineers by hitting for 25 points.

Third-ranked Kentucky rolled to its fifth straight triumph with a 76-57 decision over St. Louis. Capt. Johnny Cox kept the Wildcats' slate clean by netting 27 points. Bob Ferry of the Billikens scored 21 points although he suffered a cut forehead that required six stitches during a first-half mishap.

Unbeaten Bradley made it four in a row by defeating 10th ranked St. John's, 71-66. Mike Owens did a brilliant job of guarding St. John's spark plug Alan Seiden and pouring in 18 points himself. It was the first loss for the New Yorkers following three straight triumphs.

Second-ranked Kansas State needed four free throws by guard Steve Douglas in the final 50 seconds to nip San Francisco, 5-52, but in another West Coast contest, Southern California dumped 12th-ranked Kansas, 68-55.

Xavier Crushes Detroit
Xavier of Ohio, last season's National Invitation Tournament champion, crushed Detroit, 80-58, with co-captains Han Stein and Joe Viviano teaming up to score a total of 45 points.

Among the other unbeatens, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia picked off its fourth win in a row by halting previously undefeated Manhattan, 92-57, and Mississippi State registered its fifth successive triumph by beating Murray State, 63-62.

Pittsburgh, led by Don Ifenon's 33 points, won the Steel Bowl championship with a 71-56 victory over Duquesne. Clemson captured the consolation game by defeating Miami (Fla.), 66-61.

Texas Christian handed Utah its first loss of the season, 71-66; hot-shooting Southern Methodist built a big lead over Vanderbilt and then hung on for an 80-72 triumph and Tulane toppled Texas, 61-51.

Clyde Rhoden's field goal in the last second of an overtime period gave Arkansas an 83-81 win over Mississippi and Tom Robitaille scored 31 points to pace Rice to a 64-56 victory over Louisiana State.

In other games, UCLA downed Iowa State, 65-53; Louisville licked Alabama, 62-43; Purdue shaded Evansville, 83-82; Illinois defeated College of the Pacific, 85-67; Minnesota beat Nebraska, 78-57; Ohio State rolled over Butler, 61-49; Indiana topped Missouri, 87-72; Holy Cross beat Yale, 61-49; and Georgia defeated South Carolina, 76-72.

Wings' Boss Charges Ref Chickened Up

DETROIT (UPI)—General Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings charged today that referee Eddie Powers "chickened up" Sunday night when Montreal star Maurice Richard went on a rampage.

"That guy Powers makes up his own rules as he goes along," said Adams after the Canadiens' 6-1 victory over the Red Wings. "He should have given Richard two majors for drawing blood. He just chickened up."

The issue was a second period brawl between the 37-year-old Richard and Detroit's Norm Ullman. Richard went after Ullman after the Detroit player checked him to the ice, first hit him from behind and later missed a full-swing gullotine-like swipe. Ullman required eight stitches.

Competitively, the hot-tempered Richard had little to do with the result since Bernie Goffron of the Canadiens went on his own rampage with three goals and two assists. The outburst boosted Goffron into the National Hockey League scoring lead with 39 points and also enabled the Canadiens to take a four-point grip in first place.

Don McKenney scored three goals to lead the Boston Bruins to a 6-3 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers rallied for a 3-2 tie with the Chicago Black Hawks in the other games.

Consistency Wins LeBaron Passing Title

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consistency won the 1958 National Football League passing title for Eddie LeBaron.

The saved-off Washington Redskins' passer finished the regular season Sunday with one of the smallest yardage totals by air among NFL quarterbacks.

But he beat 'em all for average yardage with an unofficial 9.41 yards on 79 completions in 145 attempts. And that's the thing that paid off. "I'll bet you hear some more hollering to change the system," LeBaron said.

LeBaron is perfectly satisfied with the system of ranking passers by average gain for loss rather than total yardage.

LeBaron connected on 7 of 17 for 164 yards Sunday, including one pass for 71 yards to Bill Anderson. That bomb capped the Redskins' 20-0 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Final official statistics haven't been compiled, but LeBaron's total overhead yardage of 1,365 is likely to be exceeded by all but half a dozen of the NFL's top 15 passers. He has thrown less frequently than any of them since the Redskins concentrated on the rush rather than the pass.

Next season probably will be LeBaron's last in pro football. "That's the way I feel now," the former College of the Pacific star said. He wants to get started on his law career.

He's near the head of his class at George Washington Law School.

Giants Early 11-10 Picks In Title Game

Home Field Regarded As Difference In Playoff

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International

The New York Giants, busy proving you can go a long way with spirit, strong defense and a crippled kicker, are slim, 11-10 choices to defeat the Cleveland Browns next Sunday in a playoff for the National Football League's Eastern Division title at Yankee Stadium.

Pat Summerall, who hadn't kicked all last week because of an injured right leg, booted a 49-yard field goal with only 2:17 to go, Sunday on the same field. That kick, twirling true through falling snow, provided a 13-10 victory over the Browns and forced a playoff game for Eastern honors and the right to entertain the Baltimore Colts in the NFL championship game Dec. 28.

Cleveland began Sunday's contest leading New York by a game and needed a victory or a tie to win the Eastern crown for the eighth time in nine years.

The Browns appeared determined to make a runaway of the game when Jim Brown, their record-smashing fullback, raced 65 yards to score on their first scrimmage play. But the Browns could only muster a 22-yard field goal by Lou Groza after that and New York's defense pounced on three Cleveland mistakes and a controversial play call by Coach Paul Brown to win and stay "alive."

The two rivals are rated so even that oddsmakers tabbed the Giants 11-10 favorites in the "early line" for next Sunday simply because they will be playing at home. A New York oddsmaker said there would be no betting on points but strictly "money betting." If you want to bet on the Giants, you put up $8 to the bookie's $5. If you bet on the Browns, the bookie will give you an even $5-$5 bet.

Colts Lose Again
Baltimore, which hasn't won since clinching the Western Division title Nov. 30, dropped its second straight game when it bowed to the Forty-Niners at San Francisco, 21-12. Y. A. Tittle's scoring pass to Clyde Connor and J. D. Smith's two touchdown plunges helped the Forty-Niners win their final game under Coach Frank Albert, who quit last Friday.

Bill Wade's 43-yard scoring pass to Del Shofner and a 75-yard pass-run touchdown loss to Jon Arnett sparked the Rams to a 30-20 victory over the Green Bay Packers at Los Angeles. In Sunday's other regular season wind-ups, Willie Gault's 36-yard scoring run in the last four minutes at Chicago gave the Bears a 21-16 victory over the Detroit Lions and the Redskins used two interceptions and a blocked punt to help blank the Philadelphia Eagles, 20-0.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, whose late-season surge indicated they might be strong factors in the 1959 Eastern race, scored a 38-21 Saturday victory over the Chicago Cardinals. The Steelers were unbeaten in their last seven starts.

Giants Recover Fumble
After Brown's 65-yard touchdown dash over his right tackle, the Giants cashed in on Cleveland's second-quarter mistake when Jim Kalcavac recovered Lew Carpenter's fumble on the visitors' 38. The Giants, urged by 63,192 arctic-clad fans, couldn't move but Summerall booted a 49-yard field goal to make it 7-3. Groza then made it 10-3 at halftime with his 22-yarder after Mill Plum's 51-yard pass to Ray Renfro set it up.

The Browns got only one more good scoring chance. It produced a play call by Coach Brown that should keep the second-guessers busy. The Browns drove to the New York 13 with the second half kickoff. Groza then lined up for a field goal try from the 20 and directly in front of the posts but it was a fake. Bobby Freeman, the ball-holder, tried to sweep his left end and was stopped on the New York 21 by linebacker Harland Svare.

New York, heartened by that play, took charge of the game. Early in the last period, Lew Carpenter bobbled Plum's handoff and Andy Robustelli recovered for the Giants on Cleveland's 45. Frank Gifford's pass to Kyle Rote carried to the Cleveland six. Gifford then passed seven yards to Bob Schelker and Summerall's conversion made it 10-10. Summerall missed a 32-yard field goal try with five minutes to go but didn't miss from the 49 when he got another chance. He got his chance when Dick Deschaine's punt went out of bounds on the Cleveland 41.

Crown Explains Gamble
The Giants won although Jim Brown gained 150 yards in 26 carries, helping his team control the ball a good part of the third and fourth quarters. He ended the regular season with a record rushing total of 1,527 yards. He carried 257 times and averaged 5.9 yards a try while cracking the

FORTY-NINE YARDS TO VICTORY—Pat Summerall of the Giants boots field goal 49 yards with two minutes to play yesterday in the snow and cold of Yankee Stadium to defeat Browns, 13 to 10, and set up a New York-Cleveland Eastern Division playoff next Sunday. Pro Clubs Draw 3,186,130 Fans For 1958 Season

By United Press International

The National Football League recorded its first attendance total of more than three million in 1958 while breaking its crowd record for the seventh straight year.

According to crowd figures released at the 72 regular season games, the professional circuit attracted 3,186,130 customers this year. This figure includes a few thousand fans who got in on complimentary tickets but Commissioner Bert Bell's final official count of paying spectators should top three million. The 12 clubs drew 2,863,318 last year.

The individual crowds for the final week end of the regular campaign: Browns - Giants at New York 63,192; Rams - Packers at Los Angeles, 54,634; Colts - Forty-Niners at San Francisco, 58,334; Lions-Bears at Chicago, 38,346; Eagles-Redskins at Washington, 22,621; Cardinals - Steelers at Pittsburgh, 16,800.

old mark of 1,145 yards set by Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles in 1949.

Brown's touchdown Sunday gave him 10 for the season, tying the mark Van Buren set in 10 games in 1945.

Coach Brown said he gambled on having Freeman run from the field goal formation because "we wanted to go for another touchdown so we could be sure of a tie."

Coach Jim Lee Howell, whose Giants were aided last week when the Lions tried and failed on a run from punt formation in their own territory, said the third period play was the turning point. But he refused to second-guess Brown.

"If it had worked, it would have been a terrific play for the Browns," Howell said.

Summerall's Skill Could Add To Pays

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Summerall, a pink-cheeked, good-natured pro football player for the New York Giants, managed to jump from team to team in the space of six weeks.

He's done it with a blunt-edged size 10½ E kicking shoe, a hunk of black leather that sends footballs spinning toward crossbars in the National Football League.

His skill could mean several thousand dollars to each of his teammates.

Nine Goals in 13 Tries
Sunday, in snow-dusted Yankee Stadium, Summerall kicked a 49-yard field goal with two minutes, seven seconds left that beat the Cleveland Browns 13-10. It means the same two teams meet in a playoff for the Eastern title next Sunday.

The Giants have won two games outright with Summerall's minute kicks. He also boosted the three-pointers that provided the margin of victory in other.

In six weeks, beginning with the Giants' 24-21 upset of previously unbeaten Baltimore, Nov. 9, Summerall has kicked nine field goals in 13 attempts.

Before that, he'd managed only three in 10 attempts. He'd blown two conversions.

"I've been lousy," Summerall said at that time.

Teammates Confident
The 6-4, 230-pound, 28-year-old veteran only two minutes before had missed a relatively easy attempt from the 33 in Sunday's game.

"When I blew it," Summerall said, "I'd have liked to have gone anywhere but back to that bench. But you know, four or five of the guys came right up and told me to forget it, that they'd get me another chance."

"I never thought I'd get to try again," he said. "It's wonderful, wonderful, wonderful."

"On the one I missed, I figured it would fade from left a bit to right. It went straight as an arrow."

"On the last one, I just kicked straight ahead. I knew I had to hit it good since I was at about midfield. I did."

College Grid '58 Gate Up 5.41 Per Cent

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — College football has something to cheer about — a 5.41 per cent rise in attendance this year.

Each of the country's seven major sections except the Southwest showed an attendance increase over 1957, and the Southwest was down only 0.12 per cent.

An NCAA survey showed that 918 teams drew a total attendance of 19,280,709 in 2,673 games for an average crowd of 7,213 per game. This compared with 18,290,784 spectators and an average crowd of 7,073 recorded by 618 teams in 2,538 games last year.

The 1958 total was an overall rise of 5.41 per cent over 1957. The average rise in attendance per game over 1957 figures was 1.98 per cent but NCAA statistics said this change was not comparable because 87 more games were played in 1958 by teams in the lowest attendance brackets.

The Rocky Mountain area, one of the nation's thinly populated areas, registered the biggest gain, 19.94 per cent. This boom was produced primarily by the Air Force Academy team, which was bracketed with Louisiana State as the surprise teams of 1958.

The Missouri Valley boasted the second biggest attendance jump, 15.12 per cent. Then came the South with 6.32, the Midwest with 5.29, the Pacific Coast with 3.52 and the East with a small gain of 0.45 per cent over 1957.

Ivy League attendance, which dropped 4.32 per cent, helped pull down the eastern figure. The eastern independents, led by Rutgers, Navy, Syracuse and Pittsburg, registered a 1.23 per cent rise, and the attendance for 106 other teams in the area was up 13.68 per cent.

St. Mike's, Dutch Nab Youth Wins

The Catholic Youth League's basketball season opened yesterday with St. Michael's of Frostburg and SS. Peter and Paul, perennial powers, scoring victories.

St. Michael's smothered St. Mary's defending champs, 54-23, on the loser's court and SS. Peter and Paul turned back St. Peter's of Westminster on the winner's floor.

SS. Peter and Paul took a 27-1 halftime lead but was held scoreless in the third period and wound up with only 4 for second half as coach Bob Mallinsey sent 16 players into action. Nine players crashed the scoring column for the Flying Dutchmen.

St. Michael's, held to a 20-16 lead at intermission, outscored St. Mary's 24 to 9 in field goals.

Moose To Meet Berlin All-Stars Tomorrow Night

Cumberland's Loyal Order of Moose basketball team of the City League will journey to Berlin, Pa., tomorrow to meet the All-Stars of that town in a game for the benefit of the Berlin area's crippled children.

This will be the second straight year that the Moose cagers have taken part in the benefit contest. Last season they copped a 100-83 decision.

Members of the Moose team making the trip will be John Alderton, Don Lilla, Ken Johnson, Fritz Showers, George and Paul McGregor, Herman Lewis and Ronnie Cagle. Russ Minnick, former local cage star, will sing at halftime. One of his numbers will be "Pennies From Heaven" at which time fans will be asked to toss coins. This money will also go to the crippled children.

The local cagers will leave at 6 p. m. from the Moose Home.

Big, Little Men To Meet In TV Bouts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The big and little men of the ring will command the spotlight in this week's nationally-televised fights.

Nino Valdes of Cuba and Pat McMurry of Tacoma, Wash., both ranking heavyweights, will tangle in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night that will be broadcast and televised nationally by NBC.

Wednesday's TV ABC bout will pit veteran lightweight Baby Vasquez of Mexico against Eddie Perkins of Chicago in a scheduled 10-rounder at Washington's Capitol Arena.

Valdes is ranked second behind Sweden's Ingemar Johansson in the heavyweight division while McMurry is the No. 1 contender. The Cuban has engaged in 63 pro bouts, winning 46 and battling to two draws. He has scored 33 knockouts.

McMurry made his TV debut in October, whipping Canada's George Chuvalo. The West Coast Irishman has won 30 of 33 fights, 23 via kayos.

Vasquez is expected to have too much experience for Perkins in 72 pro fights. Vasquez has scored 55 victories but only 10 knockouts. Perkins has made 16 pro starts, winning 10 of his last 11, but also is a light puncher with three kayos to his credit.

Frostburg Rec Loop To Open

The Frostburg Rec Basketball League opens its season tonight with four of the six squads in action at Beall High School.

Shul's Amusement, coach by Carl Emerick, tangles with John O'Rourke's cagers at 8 o'clock while Orr's Confectionery of Midland, led by Buster Metz, faces Barney Spearman's Frostburg Knights of Columbus at 9 o'clock.

The other teams in the loop are Klondyke, coached by Jack Burnett, and Dale Coleman's quint, neither of which has yet secured a sponsor.

Roy Pepper is acting president of the league with Bob Lloyd secretary and Carl Emerick treasurer.

Paw Paw Cagers Win Third, 35-17

Paw Paw stayed undefeated Friday night when whipping Harpers Ferry, 35-17, on the latter's court. The victory was the third for coach Glenn Smith's Pirates.

Kevin Edmondson and Tom Malcolm had 14 and 12 points for the winners. None of the losers had more than four points.

Terps Meet Second-Ranked Kentucky Wildcats Tonight

By The Associated Press
A rugged week begins today for Atlantic Coast Conference teams.

The ACC, which boasts two of the nation's top 20 teams in Associated Press rankings, features games involving six other members of the elite 20. The toughest schedule belongs to North Carolina State, ranked No. 5 nationally. The Wolfpack meets both Kansas State (No. 3) and Kansas (No. 7).

Speaking for himself—and indirectly for the other ACC coaches who face the high-powered competition, State Coach Everett Case remarked wryly, "These games will let us know in a hurry what kind of ball club we have."

Maryland begins the acid action tonight, meeting second-ranked Kentucky. Also this week, North Carolina, which is ranked 13th, joins Notre Dame (No. 11) and Northwestern (No. 10) in the Blue Grass Tournament at Louisville, Ky., and Virginia plays St. John's of New York, currently tied for the No. 20 spot.

N. C. State leads the ACC with a 3-0 record—all of the victories narrow squeaks. Following State in the standings are North Carolina (2-0), Maryland (1-1), Clemson (1-2), South Carolina (0-0), Wake Forest (0-1) and Duke (0-1), and Virginia (0-2).

In action Saturday, Virginia upset fourth-ranked, undefeated West Virginia 75-72; Clemson won third place in Pittsburgh's Steel Bowl tournament with a 66-61 victory over Miami; and South Carolina lost to Georgia 76-72.

State Antlerless Deer Hunters Bag Total 173

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland hunters bagged 173 of the antlerless variety during Saturday's abbreviated season in four Eastern Shore counties, more than three times the total for 1957.

This was the second year that hunters could take aim at fawns and does on the lower Eastern Shore. The State instituted the 9½-hour season to reduce the deer population.

Chief Game Warden George B. Shields said yesterday Somerset County reported 15 kills, Worcester 12, Dorchester 50 and Kent 99. Last year only 47 deer were bagged in all four counties.

Shields noted that 3,600 hunters were licensed to hunt during the abbreviated season, but many of these had forfeited their eligibility because they had killed bucks during the regular shooting season.

"I don't believe the full 3,600 took advantage of the (short) season," Shields said, after touring the hunting area Saturday.

Conditions were made less favorable because of Thursday's heavy snowfall and subsequent sub-freezing temperatures. Frozen top layers of snow produced a crackling sound just loud enough to alert

Firemen To Hold 'Fire House Hop'

The Bedford Road Volunteer Fire Company will provide recreation facilities for the young people of the area by sponsoring a "Fire House Hop" on Friday, beginning on January 2.

David Ferguson is chairman of the project and is being assisted by Richard Van Fleet, Charles Gillum, Robert Gillum and Roger Heaver.

The dances will be open to the public and the minimum age is 14, according to Ferguson, who said a small admission will be charged each week. The dance will be from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m. with music being provided by high fidelity stereophonic recordings.

Refreshments will be available during the evening. Plans for the new project were completed on Monday evening at the annual Christmas party held for volunteers and their families. Santa Claus put in his appearance.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING—Rocky, the Dalmatian, and Lizette, the Poodle, believe in doing their Christmas shopping early. They are looking over some of the items in an exclusive canine accessory shop which opened in Beverly Hills today. Rocky is wearing a wool plaid, jersey lined coat trimmed in dark gray leather. Lizette wears a yellow mohair coat with

Laundry Workers Sign Pact

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A three-year wage pact, covering some 2,300 members of Local 141 Laundry Workers Union in the Tri-State area was accepted Sunday.

Union president Samuel Begler said the rank-and-file will receive total benefits under the contract ranging from 15 to 30 cents an hour, including a minimum of three annual five-cent-an-hour wage hikes.

The agreement also provided for three-week vacations after 15 years service, improved vacations and added increases in all job classifications.

Begler said employees will get $1.10 per hour minimum wages in industrial plants, $1.05 in linen supply and diaper plants and 95 cents in family laundries.

The contracts were negotiated in Pittsburgh by Begler and local secretary-treasurer Amy Dolinger and in West Virginia by Robert Ross, business representative and William Kirstein, union vice president.

House Group To Consider Miller Case

GOP Representative Lost To Democrat In Maryland Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—A request to investigate the election defeat of Rep. Edward T. Miller (R-Md) comes before the House Campaign Investigating Committee today.

Miller was beaten in the Nov. 4 election by Democrat Thomas F. Johnson in the First Congressional District.

A complaint filed by Marvin H. Smith of Denton, Md., charged two violations of election laws during the campaign in the Maryland Eastern Shore district.

Smith said Johnson before his election had "agreed to recommend Benjamin Wharton of Cecil County, Md., for appointment to West Point, subject to his qualifications." Smith charged this was a violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Smith charged also that Johnson permitted a violation of the law prohibiting distribution of unsigned campaign literature.

Some literature, he said, was mailed and delivered without any signature except a line saying "By authority of the Citizens Committee for Tom Johnson for Congress."

This committee, Smith said, as of Dec. 10 had not registered with federal authorities.

Kettle Campaign May Top $1,000

Cumberland Optimist Club is sponsoring the Salvation Army's Christmas kettles today and it is hoped the fund will go over the $1,000 mark.

Saturday's effort by the Rotary Club, responsible for $341.70, upped the collections to $918.70, still not quite 20 per cent of the $5,000 goal. On Friday, the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Zion Methodist Church collected $57.25 at the kettle house.

Captain Daniel K. Biggs, commanding officer at the Salvation Army Citadel, said some 700 applications for food orders and Christmas baskets have been received.
